WELCOME GOLFERS

Gulf Shores Golf Club, Gulf Shores

Over twenty years ago, when the first course along Alabama's Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail opened, the golf vacation experience was changed forever. Each year, golf groups try to play as many sites during their trip as possible and they come back year after year to fit in a few more locations. With 26 courses and five world-class resorts sprinkled around the state, the opportunities to experience this one-of-a-kind trail of affordable and challenging golf are boundless. Pair that with the many other great tracts around the state, plus Alabama's true stay and play destination in Gulf Shores-Orange Beach, and it becomes clear why Alabama is such an enticing destination choice for golfers.

This guide is designed to assist you in deciding where to stay and where to play. A quick snapshot of the state's golf resorts, state parks and the RTJ Golf Trail are presented first, followed by listings of all the accessible golf courses and descriptions of notable ones in the four distinct regions of the state. Each of the regions boasts Trail facilities, plus the state is home to courses by Arnold Palmer, Jerry Pate, Bob Cupp, and Earl Stone. Together they make up the world-class golfing destination called Alabama.

Within the regional sections of the Alabama Golf Guide, lodging options and an "Off the Course" section present unique non-golfing activities to consider, as well as some restaurant recommendations for each of the major golfing areas.

ALABAMA GOLF RESORTS

The Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail has added a new dimension to the unforgettable golf experiences to be had in Alabama with on-site resorts at four sites. And with the addition of luxurious Renaissance hotels in Mobile and Montgomery, lodging in Alabama has been raised to a new level.

The two newest Trail sites boast the state's most upscale resorts. The Marriott Shoals Hotel and Spa in Florence complements the 36-hole Shoals golf complex. The Renaissance Ross Bridge Resort near Birmingham offers luxurious lodging, fine dining, a full service spa and an 8,200-yard golf course.

Two other Marriott resorts are located along the RTJ Golf Trail in Prattville and Opelika. Both are adjacent to their respective golf facilities and offer first-class lodging, meeting space, health clubs and restaurants with lounges.

Marriott's Grand Hotel in Point Clear, a member of the Trail resort collection and the quintessential southern resort, consists of two golf courses, several dining choices, a private beach, marina and full-service spa.

Gulf Shores is home to three exciting golf resorts. Thirty-six holes of Arnold Palmer signature golf, coastal dining, on-site condos and a complete spa are found at Craft Farms. Linkside condos are available at Peninsula, which also features 27 holes of four-star golf and a great restaurant/lounge. Finally, Kiva Dunes boasts luxurious condos along the 18th fairway and above the clubhouse, plus beachfront homes.

Other stay-and-play options include Alabama state parks with golf and lodges; Goose Pond in Scottsboro, boasting 36 holes of golf, cottages and a marina; and FarmLinks near Birmingham with a lodge, cottages and great golf.

Alabama's golf resorts range from very upscale to laid back and can accommodate all types of golf groups.

THE PARKS PATH, AN ALABAMA GOLF DESTINATION

The Alabama State Park system boasts six golf courses at various parks around the state ranging from the mountains to the coast. They are located at Joe Wheeler, Oak Mountain, Lakepoint, Roland Cooper, Lake Guntersville and Gulf State Parks. The five 18-hole courses and one 9-hole course have each been renamed to reflect the character of the respective golf course and its surroundings. Additionally, the overall system has been re-branded as a new trail of sorts. The new name, The Parks Path, was chosen to clearly maintain the park's affiliation while trying to reveal the similarities amongst the group of courses. All six of the courses offer well-maintained fairways and greens, fully-stocked pro shops, clubhouses with snack bars, on-site resort or cottage-style lodging and challenging layouts in a scenic, natural setting. Plus, The Parks Path courses are great values for the quality of golf, especially with the Parks Path Gift Card, which provides an 18-hole round of golf at each of the six courses for just $75. This Alabama golf destination is a must-play.

ROBERT TRENT JONES GOLF TRAIL

In just over two decades, Alabama has gone from a relatively unknown golfing destination to one of the “top ten trips in the world” according to Frequent Flyer Magazine and “some of the best public golf on earth,” according to The New York Times. Since the inception of the Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail in 1993, Alabama has steadily been climbing the ladder of success – now playing host annually to thousands and thousands of visitors from throughout the United States and all over the world. The efforts to encourage economic growth and boost tourism in the state have been a resounding success.

Weaving its way throughout the state – from the Appalachian foothills in the north to the sparkling waters of the Gulf of Mexico in the south, a total of 468 spectacular holes at 11 sites represents one of the greatest public golf course projects ever constructed anywhere in the world. Over 100 miles of championship golf were built to stand the test of time. The courses were designed by Mr. Jones with two major objectives in mind: to challenge the world’s best golfers for years to come and to provide an enjoyable round for the casual or beginning player. Here’s a look at the individual sites on the Trail.

THE SHOALS, MUSCLE SHOALS/FLORENCE

The Shoals offers 36 holes in northwest Alabama. The Fighting Joe course, named the best new course by GOLF Magazine in 2005, runs along the Tennessee River and measures 8,072 yards. Length will present the biggest challenge, as the rolling fairways are pretty straightforward. The Schoolmaster course is a bit more challenging with more narrow fairways and protected greens.

ROSS BRIDGE, HOOVER/BIRMINGHAM

Just outside Birmingham, located a few miles from Oxmoor Valley is the Trail’s only single course facility. Measuring 8,184 yards, the stadium-style course offers spectacular views and a “big-shouldered, muscular” layout. It’s not for the weak at heart. But the on-site luxury hotel and spa offer a nice respite from a challenging day on the links.

HAMPTON COVE, HUNTSVILLE

This northern site on the Trail is one of the most unique. It features two completely different championship layouts and an 18-hole links-style Short Course. The Highlands features beautiful vegetation and lots of elevation changes, while the River is flat, yet scenic, as it winds its way along the Flint River. It is also the only RTJ design with no bunkers.

SILVER LAKES, ANNISTON/GADSDEN

Located amidst the scenic splendor of the Talladega National Forest, Silver Lakes sports three of the most beautiful and challenging nines. Heartbreaker is considered the toughest nine on the Trail; Backbreaker offers breathtaking vistas; and Mindbreaker demands precision. The nine-hole Short Course features water on seven holes.

OXMOOR VALLEY, BIRMINGHAM

The Oxmoor Valley site combines the spectacular views and tremendous elevational changes of the Ridge Course with the peaceful serenity of the Valley Course. The Ridge is densely wooded with rolling fairways. Its greens have been renovated to tone down some of their severe undulation. The Valley offers sparkling lakes and a challenging uphill finishing hole.

GRAND NATIONAL, AUBURN/OPELIKA

Frequently honored over the years, this first Trail site to open for play was praised by Mr. Jones as the greatest site for a golf course he had ever seen. Featuring two of the most challenging courses on the Trail, Links and Lake (both among Golf Digest's Best New Courses in 1993), plus an on-site resort hotel, this Trail location is a golfer's dream come true.

© Michael Clemmer

CAPITOL HILL, PRATTVILLE

This locale, just north of Montgomery, has three 18-hole full length courses. The Senator, a links course with huge pot bunkers and soaring mounds, hosts the LPGA in the Yokohama Tire Classic each year; the Legislator features tall pines and the famous Sky Bridge; and the Judge offers one of the most spectacular first tee shots anywhere.

CAMBRIAN RIDGE, GREENVILLE

South of Montgomery, this 36-hole complex is one of the true jewels of the Trail. The Canyon's changes in elevation include a 200-foot drop from tee to fairway; Sherling runs along the lake and features a double-green on nine; and the Loblolly nine boasts stately pines and undulating fairways. The nine-hole Short Course is nestled perfectly along the lake.

HIGHLAND OAKS, DOTHAN

In Alabama's southeast corner, this site is known for its tremendous length and shimmering lakes. The Marshwood nine trumpets the longest hole on the Trail, the 701-yard par-5 sixth; Highlands is wide open but many lakes come into play; and Magnolia features the massive, signature trees and a 1,000 foot wooden bridge. The nine-hole Short Course offers spectacular greens.

MAGNOLIA GROVE, MOBILE

Home to the Mobile Bay LPGA Classic, the Crossings course is well-known to golfing fans around the world. The hilly terrain and elevated greens are a challenge. The 18-hole Falls course features massive bunkers and exciting greens. Both were recently renovated to create more player friendly layouts. The Short Course is ranked 4th in the world by GOLF Magazine.

NORTH REGION

RTJ Golf Trail at Hampton Cove, Huntsville © Michael Clemmer

Golf course designers have taken advantage of all that the North Region has to offer, from fertile valleys to lush, rolling hillsides. This scenic beauty paired with the topographical challenges play a distinct role in the golf experiences in the region.

The Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail sites in the region are truly unique. In the northwest corner is one of the newest locales along the 22 year old golf trail. It's a 36-hole complex, aptly named The Shoals, since the cities of Muscle Shoals, Florence, Sheffield, and Tuscumbia form the area collectively known as "The Shoals." The Shoals golf site features two championship courses, the Fighting Joe course, the first Trail course over 8,000 yards, and the Schoolmaster course. Fighting Joe is on every list of top ten courses you can play. A more picturesque site would be hard to find. Situated along the banks of the Tennessee River, many of the holes offer a spectacular view of the water. The clubhouse is perched atop the highest point on the river, offering a panoramic view. The Shoals is typical of the Trail – great value, pristine conditions, challenging golf, and great customer service.

Also in the Shoals area, Blackberry Trail in Florence is a sporty little layout with 18 holes of golf boasting more than 7,000 yards of scenic splendor. Lush new greens are the hallmark, featuring TifEagle Bermuda surfaces that can be both fast and treacherous. Cypress Lakes Golf and Tennis in Muscle Shoals is another fun test of golf. The facility features a beautiful championship course with new Mini Verde greens and six hydro-clay tennis courts. And just down the road is one of the six Alabama State Park golf courses at Joe Wheeler State Park in Rogersville. It offers an 18-hole course, designed by legendary architect Earl Stone. One of Stone's early efforts, it's a fun open course that's also got some bite from the tips. It plays around the shores of Wheeler Lake, offering relaxing scenery to accompany your round. The park also offers an on-site lodge, perfect for a golf getaway.

Farther east in Decatur, Point Mallard Park is a complete family recreational facility, offering great outdoor activities like you've never experienced! Point Mallard Park lies hidden among North Alabama's densely wooded pines. Golfers will, of course, choose to play on the completely renovated 18-hole championship golf course. It's almost 7,000 yards long from the tips and offers world-class Bermuda greens.

These northwest courses, including the newest addition to the RTJ Golf Trail, link directly to the other Trail site in the extreme northern part of the state, Hampton Cove in Huntsville. Two totally different experiences await at Hampton Cove with the Highlands and the River courses. The Highlands is a Scottish-links style course where Japanese black pines, massive oaks, dogwoods and crepe myrtle abound. It's very picturesque, even featuring an old mule barn adjacent to the 5th hole that has become quite a conversation piece over the years. And the River Course has the distinction of being the only Robert Trent Jones design without a single bunker. The course was laid out on a former soybean plantation at the edge of the Flint River flood plain. Great care was used to incorporate the wonders of Mother Nature into the scheme of things, showcased by the enormous old oak tree behind the 18th green... reputedly over 250 years old!

Northeast of Huntsville is one of the more popular settings for golf at Goose Pond Colony in Scottsboro. Located on the banks of Lake Guntersville, this laid-back resort features two 18-hole championship golf courses, cozy lakeside cottages, a lodge, restaurant, campground, and full-service marina. The two courses available are the Colony and the Plantation. The Colony is a George Cobb design that sports views of the water from every hole. The Plantation course is known for pristine greens, open fairways, and numerous hazards.

Guntersville, just a bit south of Scottsboro, and the locale of several championship golf courses, is situated perfectly to be a home base for a golf vacation to the northeast corner of Alabama. Eighteen masterfully crafted holes covering just under 6,900 yards and offering awe-inspiring beauty, with a choice of difficulty ranging from moderate to pretty darn tough, are what you'll find at Gunter's Landing. The General Golf Club at Joe Wheeler State Park, Rogersville

Nest Golf Club overlooks beautiful Lake Guntersville and is located at the state park. It's fairly traditional in design with water coming into play often and bunkers strategically located to snare that errant shot. The final area course of note is the former private country club, Cherokee Ridge. The scenic course is nestled in the rolling Appalachian foothills. It is a tree-lined layout with narrow Bermuda fairways and large undulating Bentgrass greens. It's one of twelve courses in the state operated by Alabama's own Honours Golf Company, well-known for quality conditioning and service. The seven bedroom lakehouse at Cherokee Ridge makes it a great stay and play location.

The North Region is also home to one of the top-rated courses in the state, Limestone Springs. The Jerry Pate design is currently ranked the 2nd best public course in Alabama by GOLF Magazine. It's located in the small town of Oneonta, just 45 minutes north of Birmingham. Limestone Springs plays out along rolling hills and peaceful valleys. Ancient limestone rock formations and stately old oaks form the backdrop of the layout. The course features Crenshaw Bentgrass greens, breathtaking views of the surrounding mountain ridges and is a member of the Honours Golf stable of fine courses.

CENTRAL REGION

RTJ Golf Trail at Silver Lakes, Anniston/Gadsden © Michael Clemmer

If the big city experience with lots of nightlife is your golf group's style, the Central Region of Alabama can provide it. But if a laid-back atmosphere with exciting golf and friendly folks is the key to your dream golf trip, then you'll also have lots to choose from within the region. Those two stay and play options couldn't be made more apparent in the region than by the fact that the only two resorts in Alabama on Golf Digest's "Top 75 Golf Resorts" most recent list are located within the Central Region. They are the very understated FarmLinks in Sylacauga, tied at number 39, and the luxurious Renaissance Ross Bridge Resort ranked at number 56.

Alabama's largest and most bustling city, Birmingham, has certainly become golf central, with so many great courses from which to choose. The Renaissance Ross Bridge Resort and Spa, located in the suburb of Hoover, leads the way. Ross Bridge's 18 holes span almost 8,200 yards, making it the fifth longest course in the world. The layout flows in a clover leaf fashion, returning to a central locale no fewer than five times. Even with its intimidating length from the back tees, elevational changes, and water holes, Ross Bridge is still a resort course at heart with wide fairways and receptive greens. And it's number six in the state, according to

GOLF Magazine's most recent "Best Public Golf Courses" rankings.

Situated just a mile away from Ross Bridge is Oxmoor Valley, the Trail's first Birmingham site. It offers two unique full-length courses, The Ridge and The Valley, plus an exciting 18-hole par 3 course.

Located close to downtown in the historic Highlands neighborhood of Birmingham is Alabama's oldest golf course, Highland Park. The course has been the site of many important golf events including one of Bobby Jones' first victories. It's another Honours Golf-owned course, boasting smooth bentgrass greens and rolling terrain.

Just south of Birmingham, the home of the Dixie Section of the PGA is in Pelham at Ballantrae Golf Club. This Bob Cupp-designed course pays homage to the spirit of golf. In fact, the clubhouse resembles a Scottish manor. The links-style course meanders through a scenic valley, surrounded by gorgeous woodlands and breathtaking views.

Also in Pelham, the Alabama State Parks' "Parks Path" boasts the 18-hole championship course at Oak Mountain State Park. The Oaks Golf Club is an Earl Stone design, featuring Bermuda greens and many dogleg holes.

Playing 7,000 yards from the back tees, FarmLinks at Pursell Farms, located southeast of Birmingham in the small town of Sylacauga, is the world's first "research & demonstration" golf course. The facility was built to experiment with golf course machinery, irrigation systems, and fertilizer. And all three of the major golf publications think highly of the Hurdzan-Fry design. It's rated the number one course in Golfweek's "Best Courses You Can Play." in Alabama for 2014. It's ninth in Golf Digest's "Best in State," which includes private courses as well. And held steady at fifth in GOLF Magazine's "Best Public Courses" in Alabama. One of its most impressive accolades comes in the form of Golf Digest's "75 Best Golf Resorts" ranking. As mentioned previously,

Cider Ridge Golf Course, Oxford, an Honours Golf Course

About an hour northeast of Birmingham, between Anniston and Gadsden, lies the RTJ Golf Trail at Silver Lakes. The site, which is made up of three really tough 9-hole courses, suitably named Mindbreaker, Backbreaker and Heartbreaker, recently underwent several enhancements, such as new Champion Bermuda greens.

A nice complement to a round at Silver Lakes is either Cider Ridge in Oxford or Twin Bridges in Gadsden.

Cider Ridge is situated at the base of the state's tallest mountain, Mt. Cheaha, and features tree-lined fairways, dramatic elevation changes, and sloping greens. Twin Bridges was named among the "Best New Affordable Golf Courses" by Golf Digest when it opened in 2003. This 6,800-yard course will challenge golfers of all skill levels with its Bermuda fairways, bentgrass greens, and strategically placed bunkers set along the Coosa River.

Alabama's Central Region has a great variety of locations and courses around which to build your dream Alabama golf vacation.

SOUTH REGION

Central and southeastern Alabama come together to form the South Region of the state. Experience unique cultural and historic sites, winding waterways and four of the top Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail facilities in this vast region.

The first complex to open along the RTJ Golf Trail was Grand National in the Auburn-Opelika area. Located about 50 miles east of Montgomery, the 54 holes at Grand National were thought to be the favorite of Mr. Jones himself. The Links Course features, arguably, the finest finishing hole on the Trail, a par-4 that must carry the corner of the lake, while the approach must reach a pedestal green surrounded by boulders. Both courses are included in GOLF Magazine's and GolfWeek's annual rating of the top ten publicly-accessible courses within each state, with The Lake Course landing atop GOLF Magazine's list. When you add local courses, Auburn Links and Indian Pines, to the offerings, it becomes perfectly clear why GolfDigest once named Auburn-Opelika the "Most Golfer-Friendly" city in America.

The eighth Trail facility to come on line is also the only site with three full-length courses. Capitol Hill in Prattville is just 10 minutes north of the state's capital, Montgomery. The three courses, situated so close to the seat of government, are aptly called The Judge,

For more information, call 334-242-4169 or visit our website at www.Alabama.Travel

The Senator, and The Legislator. GOLF Magazine once named the Judge Course one of 10 public courses in the country worthy of hosting a U.S. Open. It's also the highest rated public course on Golf Digest's "Best in State" list. The course offers a stunning view on the first tee, 200 feet above the fairway overlooking the Alabama River. The Legislator is hilly and more traditional. The Senator is a Scottish links-style course with over 160 dreaded pot bunkers and mounds reaching as high as 40 feet. The course is the site of an annual LPGA Tour event.

Located in Greenville, 40 miles south of Montgomery, the Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail at Cambrian Ridge is set along the scenic southernmost edge of the Appalachian foothills. The changes in elevation are extraordinary and the three championship 9-hole courses offer an unforgettable experience.

Situated in the southeast corner of the state, the Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail at Highland Oaks is comprised of three championship nines and a 9-hole

Short Course. One of the regulation length courses, Marshwood, is home to a monstrous par-5 boasting a whopping 701 yards; and another, Magnolia, features the longest bridge on the Trail - over 1,000 feet spanning the marshes and wetlands so prevalent in the area. And just north of Dothan in Eufaula, Sanctuary Golf Club at Lakepoint State Park Resort is framed by majestic pines and oaks and was designed by Alabama's own Earl Stone.

The South Region's historic sites and scenic waterways, plus four RTJ Golf Trail sites in close proximity, make it the perfect base for an Alabama golf vacation.

GULF REGION

Peninsula Golf Club, Gulf Shores, an Honours Golf Course

Come experience the historical sites and nightlife of Mobile, the unique resorts on the Eastern Shore of Mobile Bay or the relaxation and beauty of Gulf Shores in the Gulf Region.

Mobile's premier golfing facility is the RTJ Golf Trail at Magnolia Grove. The Crossings is very hilly, featuring numerous pulpit bunkers, huge cloverleaf bunkers, and undulating greens that still demand extreme caution. The Falls course features one of the most talked about holes on the entire Trail – the par-five, 570-yard 10th, featuring a waterfall that cascades just below the heavily contoured green.

The newest area golf resort is just east of Mobile. The Stewart Lodges at Steelwood is a complete golf destination. Two fully-furnished lodges offer 20 private guest rooms with baths.

Screened porches overlook a 200-acre pristine lake and a Jerry Pate-designed golf course. Guests of Stewart Lodges gain use of this private course, plus fishing in the stocked lake and quail hunting.

Also on Mobile Bay's Eastern Shore are two of legendary Alabama architect Earl Stone's most challenging, yet rewarding layouts. Rock Creek in Fairhope is part of the Honours Golf stable of extraordinary courses. You'll be amazed at the incredible changes in elevation for this part of the state. Tall pines and hardwoods line each fairway and freshwater wetlands ripple throughout. But as challenging as the many hazards can be, this course treats the high handicapper with great respect. The other Earl Stone course is TimberCreek, located in Daphne, just off Interstate 10. This 27-hole layout offers wide, rolling fairways, carved from a dense forest of magnolias, pines and dogwoods.

For more information, call 334-242-4169 or visit our website at www.Alabama.Travel

Marriott's Grand Hotel offers superb dining, full service spa, exciting waterscapes, a beach along Mobile Bay and two golf courses. They meander around spring-fed lakes and are framed by stately magnolias, oaks, and dogwoods which have been around for quite some time. The resort itself has upheld a grand tradition of Southern hospitality, charm and elegance since 1847.

Gulf Shores and Orange Beach continue to gain popularity for golf vacationers, boasting top-notch signature golf courses within an easy drive from each other. Lodging options include beachfront condos and houses, as well as traditional hotels.

Kiva Dunes is arguably the Gulf Coast's most spectacular layout. This Jerry Pate design offers splendid scenery throughout. Its greens are large and fast, huge bunkers are plentiful and the wind and blustery conditions that prevail along the Gulf of Mexico can make for an immense challenge. With 36 holes of Arnold Palmer signature golf, Craft Farms certainly shaped the golfing landscape in Gulf Shores. The courses features gently rolling fairways, large undulating greens and year-round, lush, green conditions. The Peninsula is a 27-hole Earl Stone masterpiece. The course offers generous, elevated Bermuda greens. It is one of the best-conditioned courses in the area. All four of these spectacular layouts are managed by Honours Golf.

Come to Sweet Home Alabama to travel the world's original golf trail or to sample the many mountainous and coastal designs, and you'll be guaranteed to play some of the best golf in some of the friendliest places on earth.
